

The Great Escape

Read and enjoy some of Merton's best young writing talent in this collection of winning entries from Wimbledon BookFest's 2011 Young Writers' Competition. You'll find tales of disgruntled hamsters, frightened spiders, terrifying burglars, orphans, slaves and aliens; as well as stories and poems set in concentration camps, ancient China, jails, caves and Mummy's tummy.

BookFest is committed to encouraging and developing new young writing talent and its annual competition runs in schools across the London Borough of Merton. Twenty-four schools took part in the 2011 Wimbledon Bookfest Young Writers' Competition.

Students aged from 4 to 16 were encouraged to use the theme of The Great Escape to inspire original writing.
